5 Easy Ways to Help Forests Now

1. Reduce, Reuse, Recycle.

Every product has an environmental footprint - from the materials used to create it, to the pollution emitted during manufacturing, to the packaging that ends up in landfills. Before you buy, ask yourself if you really need it. Where possible, buy gently used instead of new, and look for minimal packaging and shipping.

2. Ask for and choose FSC-certified brands and products at retail, furniture stores, and lumberyards.

From furniture to facial tissue, many corporations, retailers, and brands are working with us protect forests. See our current buying guide on the next page. We are continually adding new FSC-certified products and brands.

3. Get fully connected.

Sign up for email updates – we will continue to let you know how we're doing and offer new ways to help preserve our forests. You can also stay in touch via Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram.

4. Make a donation to FSC.

We need resources to educate more consumers, add more partners across supply chains, and certify more forestlands. Donate today: bit.ly/FSCUSdonate

5. Shop on smile.amazon.com

(bookmark it!) and set your charity of choice to "US Working Group Inc dba Forest Stewardship Council US". By doing so, every eligible purchase triggers a donation to the cause!

Why is FSC most trusted certification?

From the forest to the final product, each item through the supply-chain is tracked and labeled ensuring your purchase is sourced responsibly!

WHY FSC?

The Forest Stewardship Council is an independent, non-profit organization that establishes standards for responsible forest management. A voluntary program, FSC uses the power of the marketplace to protect forests for future generations.

FSC harnesses market demand for forest products to ensure forests are responsibly managed. Because FSC is the gold standard in forest certification, it is the only system supported by groups such as WWF, Sierra Club, Greenpeace, Natural Resources Defense Council and National Wildlife Federation.

Today, more than 380 million acres of forest are certified under FSC's system, including more than 150 million acres in the US and Canada.
